Biography

Roni has earned an international reputation as a skilled forum facilitator by combining her background in individual and group psychology, organizational and business development and a deep understanding of the forum process to successfully lead groups through retreats and training. The hallmarks of her approach are warmth, caring, a sense of fun and a thorough understanding of personal and organizational issues.

Roni's experiences as executive director of a training firm, university lecturer, author, mediator and executive coach give her a unique perspective to address personal development issues. She has been instrumental in developing new forum training materials, including "Train the Trainer" programs. Roni has been involved in the development and delivery of eleven Forum Officer's Workshops and is a regional Moderator Training Program trainer.

Roni is married to Arnie Witkin, a current WPO member. They have two grown sons and reside in London, England.
