

Mo Fathelbab

KEYNOTE AND TEDX SPEAKER,
BEST-SELLING AUTHOR

Founder and president of Forum Resources Network, LLC, a leading provider of peer-to-peer learning and facilitation. Co-founder of Harvard Business School Alumni Forums. Author of two best-selling books, Forum: The Secret Advantage of Successful Leaders and The Friendship Advantage - 7 Keys to Building Relationships that Transform Culture and Drive Productivity

For nearly three decades, Mo has been at the forefront of creating and advocating peer groups and building communities. He has worked with over 20,000 CEOs and entrepreneurs in 30+ countries, delivering over 2,500 retreats, programs, and trainings to corporate clients and leading organizations, including Google, Pathstone Federal Street, Harvard Business School, SHRM, and Young Presidents' Organization

In addition to being a highly sought-after forum facilitator and consultant to corporate leadership teams, Mo is a very engaging keynote speaker and emcee. He has delivered keynote addresses to large audiences, including TEDx, Conscious Capitalism, Scale Up, SOSi, and SHRM.

Prior to launching Forum Resources Network, Mo served as executive director of Entrepreneurs' Organization (1991-1997), where he launched 100s of CEO peer groups and grew the organization from 100 to 2,000 global members.

Personally, Mo is dedicated to health and fitness. He loves skiing, sailing, yoga, and stand-up paddle boarding. He has completed three marathons, an Ironman, and, in 2018, placed first in USA Yoga's Midwest regional championships for men over 50. Mo serves on the boards of Young Presidents' Organization Washington and Baltimore Gold Chapter and Beyond CEO Coaching. Mo lives in Alexandria, VA with his much better half, Sally, and their son, Eli.
